Foreword

The forgotten pathway
of the past
has left behind

The abundant years
full of
Joy and heartache,
Failure and success,
A smile and a tear,
And...

a memory.

But only the path is left;
Now--a new shimmering
pathway

to the future
Awaits us.

A bridge-- leading to

A lifetime

Joy and heartache,
Failure and success,
A smile and a tear,
And...

a memory.

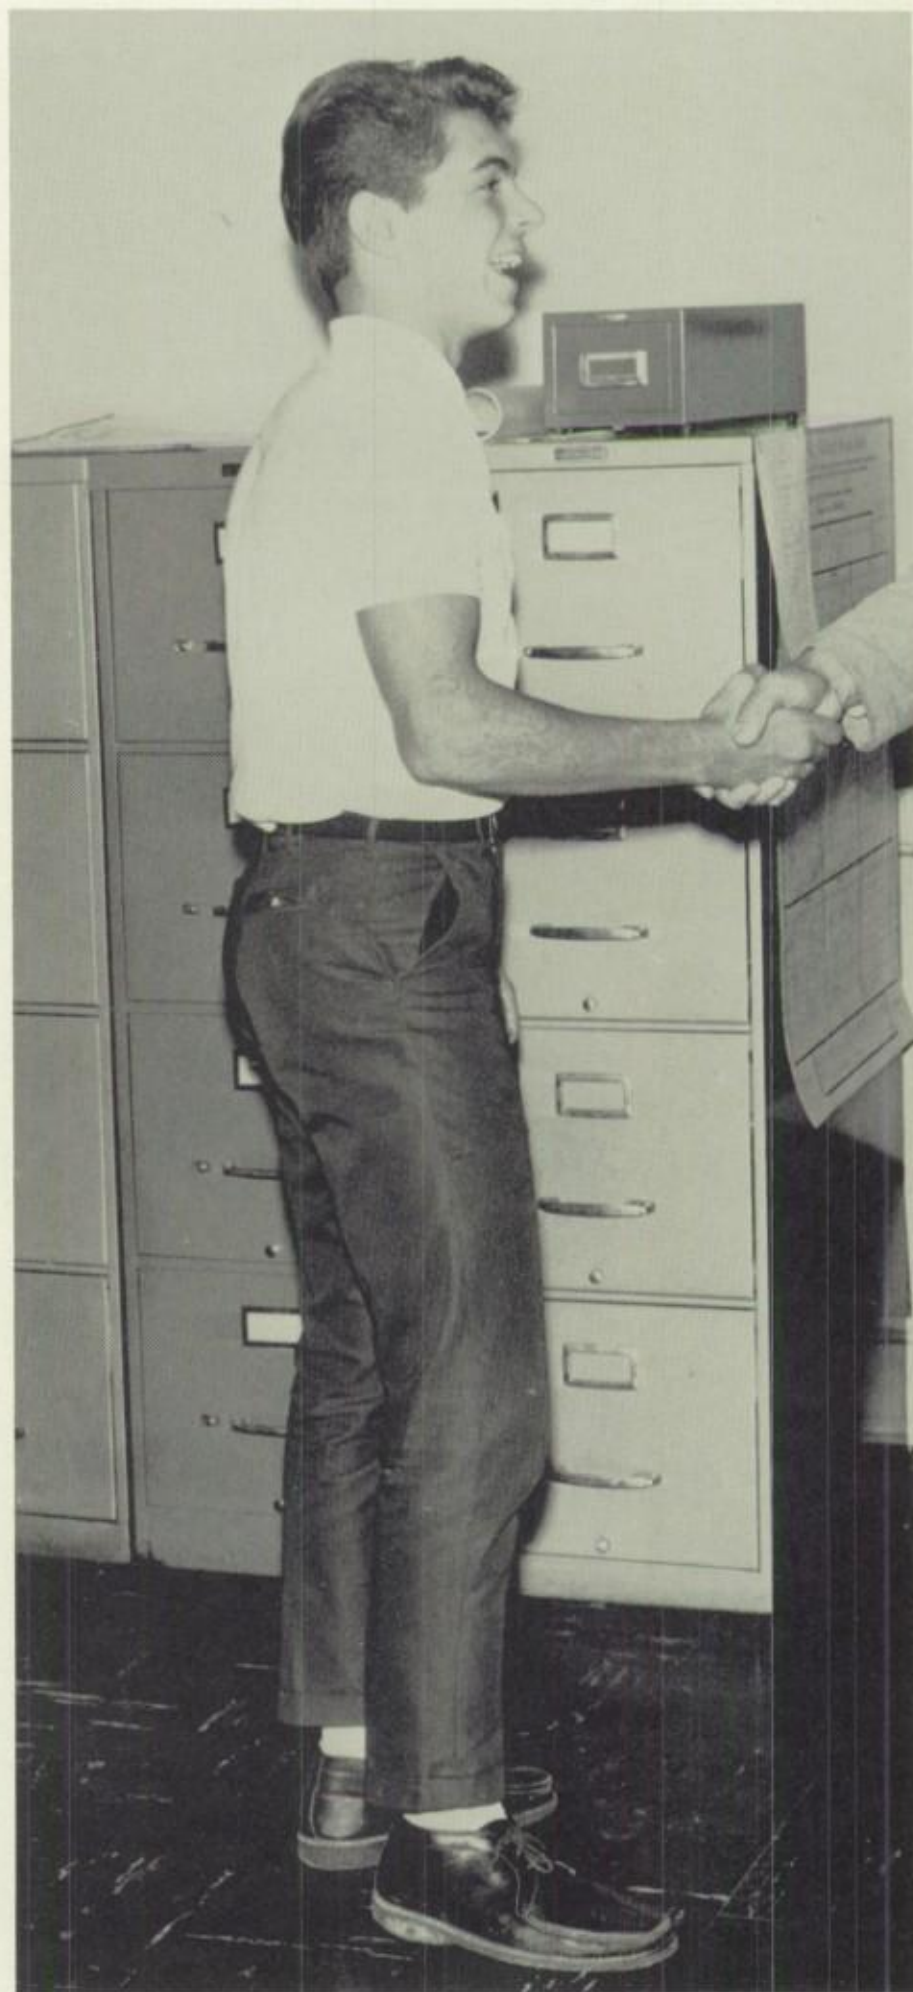

A Tribute

Because of his untiring service to Chester and to its students, we pay tribute to a teacher not only in appreciation, but also in admiration. For the five years that he has so generously devoted to guiding, teaching, and serving, we, the staff, gratefully dedicate the 1965 Summit to

Mr. Trew Lockhart

The Memory of That Wonderful Year . . .

A year of joy, heartache, failure, and success, of trivialities and of major events - that was 1964-65. The Cards won the Series and Japan hosted the Olympics. We elected and inaugurated a President - Lyndon B. Johnson - the memory yet fresh of an assassination that shook the nation ago. We lost some great men this too - T. S. Eliot

Activities

. . . Appreciating Our Activities

The annual bonfire opening the Homecoming activities Thursday evening

The annual Homecoming opened its three-day festival Thursday, October 15, with a bonfire, pep rally, and snake dance.

Friday afternoon a parade, consisting of colorful floats and led by the high school band, formed at the courthouse and wound its way through the city to the high school bowl. That evening the Yellowjacket football team met a formidable foe in the Carbondale Terriers. At halftime, Donna DiBenedetto was crowned queen by the retiring queen, Linda Durkee. The queen's attendants were Debbie Boxdorfer, Gayle Link, Susan Preusse, and Cathey Welge.

The highlight of the weekend was the Homecoming Dance held in the girls' gym Saturday night. The theme "Moon River" was attractively emphasized in colors of silver and blue.

"In Apple Blossom Time" was the theme of the Spring Dance sponsored by the Student Council and held May 15, 1964.

A large tree bursting with apple blossoms occupied the center of the gym, creating a springlike atmosphere. Accents of pink, mint green, and yellow formed a charming background for dancing.

The May Fete, the most anticipated, the most varied, and the most beautiful program of the year was presented on May 8th in the Colbert Gymnasium. All the girls in the Physical Education classes, under the direction of Mrs. Juergens, participated in this program.

The decorations, under the capable direction of Mrs. Paetzhold assisted by her Art classes, were beautifully executed in shades of silver, blue, pink, orchid, and purple. The throne, with its columns decorated in colorful butterflies and flowers of various hues and sizes, made an impressive background for the May Queen, Monna Morgan, and her Royal Court, Nancy Andrews, Imogene Bierman, June Cowell, and Pam Picou.

The Rhythm Rascals, with Mr. Birchler directing, added much to the success of the program.

The traditional Garland Dance performed by the Junior girls, carrying colorful and swaying garlands, opened the program. Then girls from all of the P. E. classes in their multi-colored costumes made a beautiful picture as they performed their group dances, specialties, and novelty numbers. The last and most impressive event, the May Pole Dance, by the Senior girls in their lovely, long, pastel dresses, was a joy to the audience and to the girls as well as they slowly, gracefully, and maybe tearfully, wound their streamers around the May Pole.

Then followed the Recessional - with all its pomp and splendor - and thus ended another beautiful May Fete!

Speech Class Play

A haunted house, two old maids, their nieces, and mysterious night-walkers all added up to fun. As the family tried to solve the mystery of the house, new love blossomed, old love was revived, and lost money was recovered. All this was the riotous play, "Aunt Cathey's Cat", given by the Speech Class and directed by Mr. Trew Lockhart.

The characters were Ricky Mann, Bill Pryor; Sharon Knott, Aunt Jane; Susan Springer, Peggy; Charmaine Dungey, Aunt Cathey; Monna Morgan, Dotty; Mary Ann Woolcott, Miss Walker; Brenda Wills, Liz Pryor; Trudy Hoppe, Tilly; Nicky Wolff, Jose; Terry Bollman, David Brent; Gary Schwent, Gasman; Linda Bivens, Maria; Danny Henshaw, Policeman.

The Honor Society is a nationally recognized organization composed of selected Juniors and Seniors who have maintained a B+ average. It is a great honor to belong to this society. Membership is based on these four qualities:

1. Scholarship
2. Character
3. Leadership
4. Service

The Student Council is one of the most important organizations in our school. Through the Student Council, the entire student body is represented in school government.

During the school year the Student Council sponsors many activities such as sock hops, elections, assemblies, the Homecoming, and the Spring Dance. The Student Council also participates in discussions concerning rules that affect all students.

Consisting of five officers--the President, Vice-President, Secretary-Treasurer, Social Chairman, and Extra-Curricular Chairman--and twelve representatives, the Student Council has a total of seventeen members. The officers are elected each spring and the representatives are elected at the beginning of the school year. Each officer and each representative must have a "C" average to be selected and to remain on the Student Council.

Future Teachers of America

Debbie Best, Cheryl Gardiner, Jana Frazer, and Corinne Martin preparing for the F. T. A. initiation day

The Future Teachers of America is an organization of students who would like to become teachers. Every member is required to participate in the activities which occur during the year. During the month of November, the F. T. A. recognizes American Education Week, and each member is allowed to visit the class of his choice in either the Chester Grade School or the Chester High School.

In December the F. T. A. brings Christmas cheer to the retired teachers in this area with carolling and a gift of cookies. At the annual banquet in February, the new members are received into the organization.

The "C" Club is composed of varsity lettermen of the various sports in Chester High School. The purposes of the club are to uphold the high standards of the letter "C", to further the advancement of sportsmanship, and to work for the betterment of athletics. To do this, the club sponsors the handling and the sale of football programs in order that film may be purchased to make movies of the football games. The members usher at the home basketball games and at the Chester Tournament. The "C" Club also sponsors an annual dance to which all athletes are invited.

Radio Club

Paul Stallman, Fred Brecht, and Ricky Mann, three of the licensed amateur radio operators of the Radio Club, checking the transmitting equipment

The Radio Club offers to the student interested in electronics an opportunity to explore its mysteries as far as his curiosity may wish. Mr. Elliot Reiman, the club sponsor, counsels students in electronics' various aspects from basic electricity to amateur radio broadcasting and even the latest advances in nuclear detection and counting. The fruits of the Radio Club's labors are seen at the annual Chester Science Fair.

The club's officers are

President	Ricky Mann
Vice-President	Bob Saak
Secretary-Treasurer	Ed Mueller

In the Science Club, the scientific-minded student is given the opportunity to hear local science educators and local scientific authorities speak on the role of science in daily living. Mr. Manley Limbaugh, the club sponsor, keeps the club members well informed on the latest scientific advances. The Science Club sponsors the annual Chester Science Fair.

The officers of the Science Club are

President	Shirley Stallman
Vice-President	Debbie Bendorf

in a Near-Miss Season

Block and Tackle Award

Loren Jany

Chester started what was hoped would be the most successful season in some time with an easy 38-0 victory over Carterville. The Jackets had depth and experience in all positions, and hopes were high for triumphs in the coming games. Then bad luck struck in the form of minor injuries to key players. As a result the next six games were lost by narrow margins. With as many as seven regulars on the bench, the Jackets continued to play well, but victory was not to be theirs.

With the last two games of the season pending, the regulars began to fill their positions, and the boys showed what might have been. They walloped Dupo 26-0, and then finished the season with a victory over their perennial rivals from Sparta, 34-20.

Much credit must be given to the strength of the Jacket reserves, for no team in the conference could have played as well under such adverse conditions. With the experience the underclassmen have gained, the Jacket fans can look forward to next year with high hopes.
